DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 2 and 4-31 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1,2 and 5-18 of U.S. Patent No. 6,531,537 B2 in view of Jahn et al. (6,330,487).

Jahn et al. further discloses the steps of receiving at the computer system (120) sensor data indicating a volume of each of the plurality of fluid preprints entering the mixing system (via batch control 102), and sending a signal from the computer system to the mixing system to dynamically adjust a flow of each of the fluid preprints based on the received sensor data (col. 3, lines 28-31). The computer system (120) includes a distributed computer system (via network 169) comprising multiple processing servers (160) and database computers (148, 152 and 156). From this teachings, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have modify the teaching of (6,531,537) to include the distributed computer system as claimed by Jahn et al. in order to facilitate processing and ordering.

As per claims 14-16 and 30, it is well known in the manufacturing business art to provide dispenses with ingredients at a retail purchase point of sale based upon specification by a retail customer and the Examiner takes Official Notice as such.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 2 and 4-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

As per claims 14-16 and 30, since Applicant(s) did not seasonably traverse the well-known (Official Notice) statement(s) as stated in the previous Office Action (Paper No. 9), therefore, the object of the well-known (Official Notice) statement(s) are taken to be admitted prior art. See MPEP §2144.03.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Hartmann et al. discloses a titanium dioxide manufacturing process where titanium dioxide pigment is widely used in a large variety of industry as an opacifying pigment in paints and paper coatings.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
